"The Old Nest"

When "The Old Nest" comes to the Crystal Theatre, on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 24th and 25th, the people of New Oxford and vicinity will have a chance to see a picture that has been hailed by critics as the most satisfying all-American picture that has yet been produced. The theme, that of a mother who sees her 6 children leave her, one by one, is common to American families. All the poignancy of feeling that these leave-takings arouse in real life have been caught on the screen. Rupert Hughes is the author of this unusual tale of mother love. He has sought to present a cross-section of a universal theme as applied to an American family. All the joys and sorrows connected with raising a family have been dramatized. Each of the children grow to manhood or womanhood with his own individual interests, then leaves the old nest to follow the call of his desires. Only their mother is left in her members. But, as in ever American family, the young remember the old nest and return to it. The picture was produced by Goldwyn and was directed by Reginald Barker. Mary Alden plays the old mother, and her performance has been said to be a masterpiece of screen acting.

Will Not Merge Churches

Methodists of Gettysburg and New Oxford change, which churches form one pastoral charge, have rejected a proposal to combine with the Methodist churches of western Adams county. The officials of both churches were unanimous in their opinion that the pastor, Rev. Harry Daniels, had sufficient work with the charges he now has, and vetoed the proposition. The plan submitted provided for an assistant pastor to help with the Orrtanna, Fairfield and Fountindale charges but, even under this plan, the directors of the churches declared that the pastor would necessarily have to devote part of his time to these churches. The west county congregations have been supplied by the pastor from York who it is said, has resigned from the charges.

Clear Case.

"I don't take prohibition cases," said the lawyer.

"But I'm an innocent man, I tell you. I'm charged with having liquor in my possession, but I'm the person who called up the police department and stated that I had found twenty-four quarts of Scotch buried in my backyard."

"You say you called up the police and let them carry off that Scotch when you might have concealed it in a hundred different places and defied the true owner to get possession of it?"

"Certainly."

"Well, you must be innocent. I'll engage to defend you."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Just Making Sure!

Backward and forward Johnny marched before the garden gate. He had a brand-new rifle and was playing at being a soldier on sentry duty.

To him came the lady from next door, her eyes cold and hard.

"Johnny, did you break my window?" she demanded sternly, pointing as she spoke to her damaged property.

Johnny paused in his stride and eyed her thoughtfully.

"Did you see me do it?" he asked cautiously.

"No, I didn't—but—"

"Then I didn't."

And he resumed his marching.

Long-Distance Music.

A concert was recently heard thousands of miles away over the wireless. "Nothing new about that," comments J. B. M. waggishly; "here in Boston 20 years ago I heard a young lady singing 'In Old Madrid.'"—Boston Transcript.

Some men admit that they are self-made, while others put the blame on their wives.

You wouldn't put on hobbles to run a foot race

Then why load up on handicaps for the day's work?

A good deal of food, unwisely chosen, does weigh the body down and clog the digestion, and dull the brain.

Why put on the hobbles?

Grape-Nuts is a breakfast or lunch-time dish for those who want food efficiency, and mind and body efficiency.

Grape-Nuts satisfies and nourishes. It delights the taste. It is ready to serve whenever you are ready to eat. And it digests easily, quickly and completely—leaving no handicap of heaviness and drowsiness.

Grape-Nuts is the food for health and action.

GIRL'S BEAUTY BETRAYED HER

Fugitive From Justice, Once Convicted, Is Acquitted on Second Trial.

COP KNEW HER FACE

Jury Accepts Defense That She Killed Man in Defense of Honor—Fled After First Trial—Fugitive a Year.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Maude Moore, whose beauty betrayed her after she had been a fugitive from justice for more than a year, is innocent of the crime of killing Leroy B. Hart, of which she was accused. A jury has just so decreed. It was her second trial.

The verdict of not guilty gives the dark-haired, gray-eyed young woman the freedom for which she risked every danger and sacrificed all—except her beauty.

She handed away her liberty with a rose in Washington. It was after she had been sought for many months. Using the name of Helen Hope, she had married William Stubbs and settled in Tacoma like a good little housewife with a kitchen and a garden and a husband who never suspected for one instant that he had married a girl who was being hunted the length and breadth of America as an escaped murderess.

Mrs. William Stubbs was pruning rose bushes when a Tacoma policeman strutted along the street. He was just an ordinary policeman with an Irish laugh and an Irish eye for every roguish little peach on the beat.

He noticed the quaint white bungalow. He observed the bonny beauty in the sunbonnet. He stopped and glanced up.

"Have a rose?" she asked, cheerfully. "Sure, and I thank you."

Remembered Her Face.

The Irish policeman took away the rose and the memory of a pair of clear gray eyes, a bee-stung mouth and a dazzling smile. The memory stayed with him for hours—until he walked into headquarters and a head-on collision with the likeness of the lady of his thoughts tacked on the wall under the caption, "$2,000 Reward."

When the police came, Mrs. Stubbs confessed she was Maude Moore. They took her back to Knoxville and to trial for Leroy Hart's murder.

Maude Moore always had been a pretty girl. After graduation from business college she got a job in the first office she entered, a lawyer's. He beauty—then—was her trump card. Leroy Hart, just out of college, owner of a flashy racing car, "money to burn," saw her and fell in love with her when she was twenty. When he suggested a spin one night and she accepted, Hart set his racer streaming toward the lonely highway known to Knoxville's sporty set as "Lover's Lane."

"Have a Rose?"

There, they said, she killed him. She was tried, convicted and sentenced to 21 years in the penitentiary.

Then She Fled.

Though a higher court granted a new trial she flung a few clothes into her bag at her mother's home and stumbled into the darkness.

Rarely in a long list of famous man-hunts has there been such a hue and cry as followed. Her two bondsmen, R. E. Boring and Edward McNew, facing a forfeiture of $10,000, spurred the chase, which soon became a clamoring wolf pack on Maude Moore's trail.

In the first moment of her flight she determined to blot out Maude Moore as completely as nature would let her. The glossy black hair was snipped away. The surviving curls were given a peroxide bath that bleached them yellow. Hours were spent in perfecting a mincing walk in place of the old free stride. The musical contralto died; in its stead was born a nasal treble.

Starves Self to Death to Save Money.

Emporia, Kan.—Mrs. Katherine Swedensson, starved herself to death to save money, according to her neighbors. Mrs. Swedensson was found dying in bed at her home. There was no fire in the house, and Mrs. Swedensson was too weak to reach some food on the table. She owns some valuable farm property.

LOVED BY WOMAN TWICE HIS AGE

Nurse Becomes Infatuated With Boy Because He Resembles Her Lost Son.

Akron, O.—Mrs. Lillian Swazee, forty-two years old, trained nurse, is held at the detention home on a statutory charge because she fell in love with a sixteen-year-old boy at a Findlay (O.) orphan's home and then came to Akron to live with him, according to Mrs. Grace K. Hill, policewoman, who made the arrest. The two have lived in Akron three years as mother and son, according to Mrs. Hill.

They were arrested as they were returning home from a grocery, walking arm in arm, apparently devoted to each other. At first both were reluctant to tell their story, but Mrs. Swazee, it is said, finally told it, while the boy, now nineteen, stood looking at the floor in an adjoining room.

"I went to work in the Findlay home to be near my fifteen-year-old daughter. While there I saw a boy who was the image of the son I had lost shortly after my husband died. My mother's heart went out to him and I loved him as a mother," the nurse said, according to Mrs. Hill.

"Three years ago," she continued, "I came to Akron and he came to make his home with me. He was an orphan. I worked as a nurse in Akron hospitals and made a living for him because I loved him."

"I do not know what to do. The whole thing shocks me now. But I still love him. None but a mother can know how my heart went out to the boy when I saw in him the picture of my own son," she said.

Police are puzzled as to how to treat the case.

MOTHER'S FAITH REWARDED

Son Returning After She Had Kept Light Going for Ten Years.

Asbury Park, N. J.—The unwavering faith of a mother that her boy would return after an absence of ten years, exemplified by a lighted lamp that she has kept constantly in her window since his disappearance, has been rewarded. A telegram was sent to Bernard Harvey, living near Los Angeles, Cal., bidding him to hurry East that he may spend the holidays with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Harvey of Oakhurst, near here.

The telegram follows the receipt of a letter, the first word received since the lad ran away to sea ten years ago.

WOMAN IS ATTACKED BY CAT

Widow of Connecticut Eye Specialist Fights Animal With Pair of Tongues.

South Norwalk, Conn.—Mrs. James A. Meek, widow of Dr. James A. Meek, New York specialist, was attacked by her pet cat here and had to fight the animal with a pair of metal tongs. She is under medical care, while the cat is under observation. Mrs. Meek's legs, arms and face were bitten and torn by the cat, which seemed to become frenzied suddenly while playing with a catnip ball.

Three Rats Trapped by Wire-Leg Chair

Danville, Va.—A chair at a local soda fountain has caught three rats within the past month and the seat of the trap is being baited nightly. The chair is made of heavy iron wire, and the rats, in descending one of the legs have in every instance wedged a hind foot and have been found the following morning dangling by one leg.

WHY DO THEY LIKE THIS MAN?

It is Because He Has the Life and Energy that Red Blood Gives.

He has a good color. He is strong and virile, and looks it. He is good humored. He laughs easily. In short, he is "full of life," which is simply another way of saying he is full of red blood. If you are weak and run-down and nervous, don't sleep very well and have a poor appetite go to your druggist and buy a few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan and take it for a few weeks at meal-time. See how it will build you up by giving you plenty of good blood. Don't drag around half sick and half well. Get some "pep" into you by taking Pepto-Mangan. Sold in both liquid and tablet form. What Did They Mean?

On Christmas morning the children of the house were spreading out the toys that Santa had put in their stockings.

"Father," said Willie, "I wish I had got a dictionary in my stocking as well as these toys."

"Why," what did you want that for?"

"So that I could find out the meaning of words I heard Santa Claus say when he stepped on the tacks I spread on the carpet last night."

His Slowness.

"Doctor Rave, the popular evangelist, emphatically declares that there is a hell."

"Dear suzz!" answered J. Fuller Gloom. "Has he just found it out? Why, almost immediately after my marriage more than twenty years ago I advised my brother-in-law to go there!"—Kansas City Star.

Fleeting Fascinations.

"Your speeches haven't their old-time spellbinding qualities."

REASON IN THIS ARGUMENT BOTH GOOD AND BAD NEEDED

Also Miss Katie Might Have Discerned Something Sounding Suspiciously Like a Compliment.

Reverend Sparrow Jones Had Ingenious Reasoning With Which to Satisfy Aunt Miranda.

A faithful old servant in a southern family has recently become a grand mother. "What does Libby call her new baby, Mandy?" the old woman was asked.

"She named her 'Gabrielle,' miss—after you."

"Why, the idea, Mandy! You know my name is not Gabrielle. You've called me 'Miss Katie' all my life."

"Yas'm, Miss Katie—that I does. But when it comes to naming babies after folkses, it ain't what dey is called it is what dey is like dat you names 'em fob. You shurely is mo' like 'Miss Gabrielle' dan you is like 'Miss Katie,' jes, like Libby says."

Double Correction.

Mrs. Newrich (to small son)—James, have you whispered today without permission?

James—Only wunst.

Mrs. Newrich (to nurse)—Jane, should James have said "wunst"?

Jane—No, ma'am, he should have said twit.—London Answers.

Usually the louder a man talks the less it amounts to.

Fortunate is the Bar who loses his reputation.

Whenever the Rev. Sparrow Jones called on Aunt Miranda, it was her custom to set a plate of gingerbread before him and then ply him with what she called "lignous 'spoundings."

"What fo' does de Lawd send epidemics onto de land?" she asked him one day.

"When folkses get so bad dey must be removed, some of 'em, Sister Miranda, den de Lawd permits de couln' of an epidemic," said the preacher; and he took a large bite of gingerbread.

"Uh," said Aunt Miranda. "Ef dat's so, how come de good peoples gits removed along wid de bad ones?"

"De good ones is summonsed for witnesses," said the Rev. Sparrow Jones. "De Lawd gibs every man a fair trial."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Many ambitious men and women live only half a life—and don't know it

No person whose nerves are continually irritated, whose appetite and digestion are disturbed, or who doesn't sleep well has more than half his normal chance for success in life. For weakness, debility, anemia and general lack of tone are a serious handicap to anybody.

Those who drink tea or coffee are often sufferers from these conditions. Tea and coffee contain caffeine, a substance which has a decided stimulant action on the nerves and brain cells.

Each cup of strong coffee contains about as large a dose of caffeine as your doctor would ordinarily give to a very sick person.

You can readily see that the effect of giving this stimulant regularly to a well person might finally have a tendency to make him sick.

If you want to avoid a very common cause of irritation and enjoy restful sleep, good digestion, and all the feeling of vigor and robust endurance that comes to healthy, normal people, quit tea and coffee, and drink Postum, instead. It is a rich, coffee-like cereal beverage—perfectly delicious!

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this fragrant, aromatic beverage and see how much better you'll feel—able to do more without becoming fatigued—as thousands have discovered for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

INJURY PROVED FATAL

George C. Champlain, died at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Saturday, as a result of injuries received while operating a planing machine at the Gettysburg furniture factory on December 2nd, when a splinter of wood flew back from the machine and struck him in the right leg just below the hip, imbedding itself about six inches in the flesh. He was taken to the hospital. A femoral vein was punctured by the splinter. He remained at the hospital 33 days and was discharged on January 2nd. After being home several weeks, the wound refused to heal and an abscess formed in the right thigh as a result of the infection from the splinter remaining in the leg. His condition became steadily worse and February 8, he was again taken to the hospital and an operation performed Friday in an attempt to stop the action of gangrene poison which it is said set in. The operation was unsuccessful and his death followed.

Mr. Champlain was 49 years old, and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Champlain, of Center Mills, where he was born and lived until seven years ago when he moved to Gettysburg. Besides his wife, who was Miss Stella Nickrode, before her marriage and lived near Center Mills, Mr. Champlain leaves one son, Luther, and two adopted children, Chas. Howard and Kathleen. Two sisters and two brothers, also survive.

GOLDEN RULE HAS PLACE IN TRADE

Has Been Found to Be Good
Business Policy Both for
Buyer and Seller.

OBLIGATION NOT ONE-SIDED

Consumer Gains As Much By Being Fair With Merchant As Latter Does By Being Square and Honest.

(Copyright.)
Some cynical persons have remarked that the Golden Rule has no place in business. They have taken the position that instead of doing unto others as you would have them do unto you, the only safe and sane plan is to do others before they have a chance to do you.

Fortunately for business and for the world at large, however, these persons are few and far between. The great majority of people are honest.

It has been proven repeatedly that even in business it pays to practice the Golden Rule, just as it has been proven repeatedly that "honesty is the best policy." It not only makes a man feel better down in his heart when he employs the principle of the Golden Rule, but he finds that it is good business. This applies not only to the man who stands behind the counter and gives a full pound of sugar to the man who asks for a pound, but also to the man who stands on the other side of the counter and pays his money for the pound of sugar.

Does Consumer Do His Part?

The consumer expects the merchant to be honest and square and give him his money's worth for every penny that he spends with him, but how often does the consumer stop and ask himself the question, "Am I being as fair and honest with the merchant as he is being with me?" The consumer not only expects the merchant to give him honest weight and full measure at the lowest possible price, but he expects a world of other things at the same time. Nine times out of ten he expects the merchant to give him credit, and nine times out of ten the merchant does it. Many times he expects the merchant to "carry" him for three or four months before he pays for what he buys, and as many times the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to pay for advertising space in the church program which he is getting up, and the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to "kick in" most liberally when he is raising a fund for the benefit of the town band, and the merchant does it.

He expects the merchant to provide the bonus which is to be paid to obtain a new factory which will benefit the working man, the clerk and everybody else in the town, and the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to "come across" with a donation to help the poor family which otherwise would become a charge upon the common funds of the community, and the merchant does.

Another Side to Picture.

Now, look on the other side of the picture. Mr. Consumer decides that he needs a new suit of clothes, or Mrs. Consumer decides that she wants a new kitchen range, or some of the little Consumers express a desire for a train of cars or a bobbed. Mr. Consumer picks up the big mail-order catalogue which the mail-order house has printed with his money or that of others like him, and he looks it over until he finds a picture that strikes his eye. It's a picture of a "nifty" looking suit of clothes. Of course, he can't feel the picture to see whether the cloth is as good as it looks; he can't look the mail-order man in the eye and ask him whether he will guarantee it to wear for at least a month or six weeks; he can't tell the mail-order man that he will drop in the first of the month and settle for it; he can't tell the mail-order man that he would like to have a little of his business or a chance to do a little carpenter work or painting or plumbing work for him, as long as he is buying his goods from him, for the mail-order man hasn't any business or any work to give him. But the picture is a pretty one, so Mr. Consumer digs out his hard-earned cash, goes down to the postoffice, buys a money-order and sends it to the mail-order man.

After a week or ten days, or possibly two weeks, the suit arrives. It may be nothing like the picture. The cloth may be of poor quality. The chances are that it doesn't fit at all. But there is nothing for Mr. Consumer to do but put the suit on and wear it. He can't get his money back. He might send the suit back and the mail-order man might send another in its place, but the chances are that it wouldn't be any better than the first and Mr. Consumer would only be out the additional express charges.

Found Golden Rule Pays.

Mr. Consumer found that it pays to remember the Golden Rule in business. If he had done unto the merchant as he would like the merchant to do unto him, he would have got more for his money and he would have aided in making it possible for the merchant to help him and his town when they needed help.

The world has discovered that the Golden Rule is not for use only on Sundays, but that it is value on every day of the week.

STILL RAID NEAR HERE

A dunce cell of a residence on the Kuhn farm, between Abbottstown and East Berlin, Adams County, near the York County line, was raided late Friday, February 19, by officers of the law, who found a copper still, of 35-gallon capacity, attached to a whiskey barrel, containing half-inch coal and other evidence that manufacture of brandy was carried on.

The raid was successfully carried out by Sergeant Paul S. Worcester, Private Frank B. Goucher, of Pennsylvania State Police, substation, Gettysburg, armed with a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace, Hill, Gettysburg, at direction of Raymond Topper, district attorney, of Adams County, Jesse Crabbs, chief of police, of Hanover, and Herb B. Kain, York, the York, countians bearing a warrant issued by Lewis P. Sell, justice of the peace of Hanover, made at direction of Walter Van Baman, district attorney of York County.

The residence served as the home of Edward S. Sneeringer and Norman Small. Both were arrested by Chief Crabbs and Private Goucher. Sneeringer is charged on the York County warrant with selling intoxicating liquor. Information is at hand that he has been disposing of product of the underground moonshine still in Hanover, selling bottles of the stuff concealed in pasteboard cartons such as are used in selling shoes.

The information in Adams County, before Justice Hill, was made by Sergeant Worcester. That in York County, before Justice Sell, by Herb B. Kain, at direction of District Attorney Van Baman.

Small is charged, together with Sneeringer, on the Adams County warrant with manufacturing, selling and possessing intoxicating liquor. Sneeringer furnished bail for a hearing. Small was committed to the Adams County jail for a hearing. Chief Crabbs, Sergeant Worcester and Mr. Kain will conduct a further investigation, acting under direction of both the district attorneys interested in the case—Van Baman and Topper.

Officers feel confident that the men under arrest were conducting a bootlegging business along wholesale lines. The farm is owned by John R. Kuhn, Esq., of Brooklyn, N. Y., who spends the summer there. The fact that the place is abandoned in the winter time and is boarded up made it an ideal location for a "quiet still."

The officials approached the place cautiously. No one was permitted to know their plans and news of the raid only became public after it had been successfully consummated. That the exercise of caution was justified is evidenced by the fact that deadly weapons were found, with plenty of ammunition at hand, ready for instant use.

Above the door entering the cellar from a room on the first floor, a shot gun and rifle, both loaded, were found. Beneath the gun was a box of shells. Sergeant Worcester unloaded the gun and rifle and took charge of the ammunition.

The officers found the cellar windows tightly closed, so tightly that not a ray of light could penetrate.

The still found in the cellar is the width of an ordinary cook stove. The officers also found four large whiskey barrels of mash, made of prunes and peaches, and four other barrels of the same size and capacity, but empty.

Four jugs containing distilled liquor and brandy, about ten gallons; eight empty whiskey bottles, a tester, a bottle of sugar coloring, paddles and other paraphernalia used in manufacturing liquor were found.

The stuff was all seized, placed on a truck and taken by Sergeant Worcester and Kain to Gettysburg, where it was stored in the county jail. The mash was destroyed by pouring kerosene on it.

Small was released from the Adams county jail Monday morning under $1,000 bail. He will be given a hearing at Gettysburg on Friday. Sneeringer is awaiting a hearing before Justice Sell, of Hanover.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY SKIN

Irritation and Breaking Out Often
Healed Over Night, Says
Skin Specialist

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaves the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment of disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

SALTS IS FINE FOR
KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

IF HAIR IS TURNING
GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DRINK HOT TEA
FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamberg's Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take 2 tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND
LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

This Pure Cream
Stops Head Colds

Apply in Nostrils—It Opens Air Passages Instantly.

Colds and catarrh yield like magic to soothing, healing, antiseptic cream that penetrates through every air passage and relieves swollen, inflamed membranes of nose and throat. Your clogged nostrils open right up and you can breathe freely. Hawking and snuffling stop. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist. Apply a little in the nostrils and get instant relief. Millions endorse this remedy known for more than fifty years.

When one of the reins with which he was holding his horse on a down grade near Carna Smith's store, Mt. Joy township, tore, Friday morning, the animal became frightened and threw the occupants of the buggy, Mr. and Mrs. George Geiselman of the same township, to the road, breaking Mrs. Geiselman's knee. Mr. G. was uninjured. The horse ran for some distance and an unidentified man in a buggy caught the animal.

A. F. Rees and wife, of Hanover, are on a trip thru Germany and Austria. Nuremberg is the home of Mr. Rees. He left there when a young man and has since made America his home. He is proprietor of the Hanover Reduction plant.

Mrs. Monroe Markle, of Hanover, who was so terribly burned in December and has been a patient of the York hospital since then, is slowly recovering. She is not expected to be able to come home for sometime, however.

Keeny Myers, Maple Grove, reported the entire amount of meat in his smoke house stolen Sunday night, consisting of hams and shoulders of one hog and sausage of three. Mr. Myers has several clues.

A fake officer paraded the Abbottstown streets Saturday evening halting automobiles and giving orders about lighting and general traffic laws. At the Abbottstown garage he stated that he was a state traffic officer and also a prohibition agent, and for a while he had the boys about the garage guessing, but finally they caught on to the deception and in not a very gentle manner ran the fellow out of town. He was dressed in an old sailor uniform and carried a marksman's badge but was unarmed.

A meeting of the residents along the Lincoln Highway east of Abbottstown to the residence of Cyrene Myers, was held at the residence of Bentzell Eyster, Tuesday evening, to confer with representatives of the electric light company in regard to the extension of the electric line along the highway.

A. H. Rodgers of Abbottstown, sold his herd of steers, 35 head, Friday, to Arnold Hemp, Lancaster. Nineteen of the number were export cattle and their average weight was 1453 pounds. Mr. Rodgers fed the cattle 98 days and an average of 201 pounds gain in weight was put on the 35 head.

The artesian well, which is being drilled at the Paradise Protectory is now 350 feet deep. The drillers are progressing at the rate of about 10 feet a day. Drilling will be continued until a flow of 50 gallons of water per minute will be obtained.

Rev. A. C. Renoll, of Fredonia, preached on Sunday in Redeemer's Reformed church, Littlestown.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Shue, Mummaburg, had its collar bone broken.

Lothaire Crouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer O. Crouse, of Littlestown, has bought the Rawlings Pharmacy, Columbus, Ohio.

Chas. Morehead, near Littlestown, who had been taking a vocational course at State College, given by the Government, returned home on Wednesday.

William Krise, Hanover, had three fingers on his right hand smashed on Wednesday morning in attempting to jack up one of the machines at the Eagle Fire Engine House.

Fr. Mark Stock gave another of his illustrated Bible lectures to a large audience in St. Francis Xavier Hall, Gettysburg, Sunday evening. After showing the biblical pictures, Fr. Stock showed views of many of the churches in France ruined by shells during the World War.

Charles E. Parr of Kentland, Indiana, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Parr, formerly of Littlestown, wrestling in the 115-pound class for Indiana University in the match with Michigan Agricultural College Saturday, scored a fall over Gelpin. According to Coach Reynolds welterweight champion of the world, Parr is showing excellent form.

Pat O'Brien, who stays around McSherrystown during certain seasons of the year, is wearing a pair of leather boots which he asserts were made by a shoemaker 13 years ago. The boots are still apparently good for a number of years wear and Pat says they never leak.

The employees of the McSherrystown Cigar Company, Henry J. Roth, proprietor, at a meeting held Tuesday a week voted to strike because of a proposed cut in wages. The cut proposed was $1 to $1.50 per thousand cigars. The employees, most of whom belong to the Cigar Makers Union, hold that this would reduce their wages below the minimum allowed by the union. The factory has been running only three or four days a week for the past three or four weeks. About 60 employees are out.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

DUTY WELL DONE

Springfield Citizens Worthily
Honored Lincoln's Memory.

Writer Who Knew the Great President
Commends Placing of Tablets at Points of Interest.

Springfield citizens have discharged a duty which the nation has owed to future generations. They have recalled the memory of Abraham Lincoln's life in Springfield by placing thirteen bronze tablets at places made historic by events in Lincoln's career while he resided there, writes Henry B. Rankin in the New York Tribune.

These tablets bear his name and tell of the events that transpired at the various places and dates. The bronze, the designs and the workmanship represent the best quality of memorial art.

To younger citizens who never knew him and to the thousands of visitors who are attracted to Springfield only because it was the home of Lincoln, these tablets will be most revealing of his presence in the Illinois capital. These memorials are a living embodiment of the Lincoln spirit in Springfield and are as appealing and more revealing than even his tomb. He still lives at Springfield now in daylight

The Old United States Court Building,
Springfield, on the Third Floor of Which Was Lincoln's Law Office.

as well as at midnight and limited no longer by Lindsay's poetic vision of "Lincoln Walks at Midnight." The poet wrote:

It is portentous and a thing of state
That in the midnight in our little town,
A morning figure walks, and will not rest
Near the old Courthouse pacing up and down.

Some of the locations marked are more intimate than others to the writer, though all are worthy and correctly placed. Four of the tablets mark places and events where I was present and familiar with the events cited. These are the ones at the old Journal office, where Lincoln received the telegram notifying him of his nomination; at the C. M. Smith building, in the third story, where Lincoln wrote his first inaugural address; also the tablet reciting events at the State house (now Court house), where his great speeches were delivered and where his body lay in state and from where it was borne to the tomb. The fourth tablet marks the law office which Lincoln occupied the last seventeen years he was in Springfield. This is to me the most appealing and sacred of all in memory's retrospect.

Lincoln's Law Office.
The first three mentioned I will not further refer to here, as they were fully described in my "Personal Recollections of Abraham Lincoln."

Of the Lincoln law office some more intimate recognition of the part it had in Lincoln's life deserves mention at this time. This office was the center of Lincoln's legal, political and literary activities in Springfield. Volumes might have been written of what took place here, had there been such a competent, gossiping scribe as Boswell all ways present to take notes of what transpired.

It is now more than sixty years since I passed daily under the swinging sign, "Lincoln & Herndon," and up and down the stairway, into and from a back room, located in what was then a two-story building. This had been the law office of Abraham Lincoln for the last seventeen and most strenuous years he spent in Springfield.

It was my privilege, for several of those later years, to share in that office its routine as a student, and to enjoy the personality and instruction of this most remarkable man of his century.

The end of his presence at the law office came the evening of February 10, 1861. I recall seeing Abraham Lincoln passing that night for the last time, out of his office and down the narrow stairway to the street. On the following morning he departed from Springfield on his mission into the strange, strenuous sacrificial life that has ennobled his memory forever to endure in the heart of the ages.

Foresaw Coming Events.

No place in Springfield, not even his tomb, throngs with memories such as this office brings to the students of Lincoln's history. Lincoln's most studious years were spent here, as well as the most aspiring ones. It

WRITTEN AT TOMB OF LINCOLN

Here idle lies behind this gate,
Where little children and the great
Forget-me-nots and laurel lay,
All the useless, hallowed clay
Of Lincoln, in his lonely state.

A spirit, vast, compassionate,
Unfaltering in a world of hate
Of little men who rage when they Hear idle lies.

Lord, how we silly humans prate
Of life's inconsequential date,
And epoch passes while we pray,
An epic sung while asses bray;
A god went by that we, too late,
Here idolize!

was here that he grew clear visioned on the future's national problems and threw his whole soul into their solution. Here he acquired his dexterous skill in handling human implements. Political events rapidly succeeded each other in those years he spent there. These arose to a climax at length with swift unlooked for by most others. Not so to Lincoln. They culminated at last suddenly, bringing fierce strife of brother against brother, of state against state. Dark clouds filled the political and national skies, bursting at last into a storm of bitter hate and bloody war. This had become inevitable.

When that hour of need had struck it was from this office there came a man fully prepared by years of study for those fateful hours. An honest, tall, gentle, strong man, heroic and sad, who was constitutionally called by his fellow countrymen from this office and placed at the helm of state to preserve our national union. In that time of political turmoil and civil revolution he guided his country safely through blood and fire and tears, with a steady, unshaken faith in God and man.

The Lincoln Home at Eighth and Jackson Streets, Springfield.

Truly "A Man for the Ages."

It was not the opportunity nor the stress of great occasions, such as the delivery of his speech in the Illinois state capital on "a house divided against itself cannot stand," nor the debates with Douglas that followed it, nor the opportunity before a New York audience at Cooper institute, that account for or explain the progressive development of Lincoln.

It was not Salem, Springfield or Washington; it was neither Stuart Logan, Herndon, Douglas, Baker, Harlan nor the able men in his cabinet and who surrounded him in so many other capacities, both civil and military; who can have the credit of prominence in the making of Abraham Lincoln, much as those places and some of those men have contributed to it.

After and beyond all these influences and those times and men that he there moved among, and rising beyond all comparisons with them, we clearly discern the unique and exclusive personality of Lincoln himself.

BETWEEN THE LINES
You will not find a sentiment . . .
In this, my Valentine; . . .
To put such words on paper seems
To cheapen thoughts divine.
Tis not the words writ large or bold,
Or even those writ fine . . .
That stir the heart the most, 'tis those
That hide between each line.

HAD ORIGIN IN PAGAN FESTIVAL

CUSTOM OF CHOOSING A VALENTINE IS ANCIENT.

Fathers of Christianity Modified the Practices, Which They Were Unable Entirely to Eradicate.

St. Valentine's day is the 14th of February, and singularly ominous to lovers. St. Valentine is said to have been a bishop who suffered martyrdom under the Roman emperor, Claudius, or else under Aurelian in 271.

Like many another semi-Christian custom, the day set apart to the memory of St. Valentine in the Christian calendar is an old pagan festival upon which our ancestors believed that the birds chose their mates for the coming year. This, at least, is the commonly received version of our modern custom of "choosing a valentine" on the 14th of February and of sending a billet-doux or a fancy valentine through the mail to some favored one.

In old Rome, the 15th of February was the festival of Juno Februata (Juno the fructifier), and the Roman church substituted St. Valentine for the heathen goddess. At that festival, called "Lupercalia," it was there customary, among other ceremonies, to put the names of young women into a box, from which they were drawn by the men as chance directed.

The Christian clergy, finding it difficult or impossible to extirpate the pagan practice, and in accordance with their general principle to eradicate the vestiges of pagan superstition by retaining the ceremonies but modifying their significance, gave it a religious aspect by substituting the names of particular saints for those of women. The saints whose names were drawn were proposed for imitation to the persons who received the slips of paper whereon they were written, and in many religious houses, where this custom still prevails, each member of the community preserves his billet during the year, as an incitement to imitate the virtues and invoke the special intercession of his holy valentine.

This innovation, however, namely, the substitution of the names of saints for the names of lovers, could not please the young people forever. Though the clergy repeatedly forbade the custom of valentines and ordered the use of cards with saints' names, the old pagan custom could not be abolished. The boys and girls triumphed over the saints, and in the end the girls triumphed over the boys, wresting from them their exclusive privilege of choosing mates.

The old custom of drawing names is to this day observed in many parts of England and Scotland in the following manner: A number of slips of paper with the names of an equal number of men and women are shuffled and drawn, so each young man has a valentine in the person of a young maiden, and each maiden draws a young man whom she calls hers. The valentines give each other gifts, and often this little sport ends in love and marriage.

FEBRUARY FOURTEEN

Oh, were ye all, my maidens fair,
And were ye, gentlemen,
For there is danger in the air
Now Cupid's come again.
Encase your hearts in adamant,
And guard them round about,
For Cupid is a sly gallant
And like to draw them out.

Oh, guard ye well, my maidens all,
And ye, my gentlemen;
Where Cupid's darts are like to fall
Is always uncertain.
Gird on your armor, strong and true,
And steel your hearts, and wait,
And be convinced he shoots at you
Ere you capitulate.

THE DAYS GONE BY

What has become
Of ye Olde way time
When you sent your girl
A Valentine?

Not one of these modern kind.
I mean
The ones that folded
With lace between.

And a heart with an arrow
Running right through,
And a verse inside about
"Violets blue."

Whose jingling rhyme
Sent thrills through your heart,
'Til you'd almost feel
Dan Cupid's dart.

It's scented folds
Made you dizzy with hope.
Remember, it smelled
Like a new bar of soap.

And when it came
You trembled for fear,
When you looked and found HER
Name written there.

Oh, what has become
Of ye Olde way time
When your girl sent you
A Valentine?

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs.
W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. WM. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mothers—daughters, why not try it?

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Albert Will Case.

After hearing arguments 5½ days for and against setting Marie C. Shenk, of Carlisle, aside as executrix and beneficiary of the will of the late Sampson Albert, who died at the Shenk home in Carlisle on September 1, 1921, court was adjourned at noon Friday until March 6th. However, further hearing on this particular case will not be resumed on that day but by agreement of court and counsel, the argument will start on Wednesday, March 8th. This date is only tentative. It is said that about three days will be required to hear the remainder of the witnesses for the defense. There is now a strong possibility that Marie Shenk will be called to testify in her own behalf at that time. Thursday noon the proponents offering the will began the taking of their testimony at once, John D. Keith of counsel of Marie Shenk detailing a visit to Sampson Albert on Aug. 24 and Miss Martha Dickson following with notes of the conversation between J. D. Keith and the decedent at the time. Dr. E. A. Hudson, Hampton, was also on stand Thursday. The testimony of all the witnesses related to what each knew about decedent, facts of his condition, various relations and the basis upon which they formed the opinion whether he had or did not have testamentary capacity to make the will and whether or not he was unduly influenced in the making of the will.

A Judicious Inquiry.—A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade, says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.

LOCAL TROOP ON TOP

New Oxford Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of America, lead during the month of January in the Trip-to-Washington contest over Hanover Troop No. 1 by 146 points. Littlestown drew up and passed Troops 4 and 5, Hanover, and landed in fifth position. The cup is to go to the master whose name appears the greatest number of times in the six months of the contest, and Professor Tawney's name is the only name appearing twice thus far.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS.

William, 11-year-old son of Jacob Dentler, of near Five Points, was taken to a Baltimore hospital last week for an operation upon one of his legs.

Margie Chronister, 14-year-old daughter of John A. Chronister, Huntingtown township, who was operated on by the expert Philadelphia surgeon, Dr. Kuzh, during his visit at Gettysburg, is home again with bright prospects of retaining her ability to walk. The operation consisted of the removal of some decayed bone and a general cleansing of the sore. She had remained at the Warner hospital 7 weeks.

Lewis Lochman, Abbotstown, who was hurt in the back by a steam shovel at the Bethlehem stone quarries Monday a week and immediately taken to the York hospital, is reported doing well. His injuries were not as serious as was first reported.

Roger Kress, of Littlestown, entered the U. of P. hospital, Philadelphia, for a possible operation.

Mrs. Conrad D. Rusher, of Kingsdale, has gone to a Baltimore hospital to have cataract removed from her right eye.

"The Old Nest"

When "The Old Nest" comes to the Crystal Theatre, on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 24th and 25th, the people of New Oxford and vicinity will have a chance to see a picture that has been hailed by critics as the most satisfying all-American picture that has yet been produced. The theme, that of a mother who sees her 6 children leave her, one by one, is common to American families. All the poignancy of feeling that these leave-takings arouse in real life have been caught on the screen. Rupert Hughes is the author of this unusual tale of mother love. He has sought to present a cross-section of a universal theme as applied to an American family. All the joys and sorrows connected with raising a family have been dramatized. Each of the children grow to manhood or womanhood with his own individual interests, then leaves the old nest to follow the call of his desires. Only their mother is left in her members. But, as in every American family, the young remember the old nest and return to it. The picture was produced by Goldwyn and was directed by Reginald Barker. Mary Alden plays the old mother, and her performance has been said to be a masterpiece of screen acting.

BASE BALL ON WAY

TOO MUCH MOONSHINE

A Ford sedan owned by Geo. Hayberger, of Gettysburg and driven by Walter Sterner, of that place, was struck by a Ford coupe driven by Curvin W. Leese, of Hanover, at the intersection of the Item alley and Lincoln Way, East, on Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock, both machines being badly damaged. Sterner was backing onto the Highway, when bumped by Leese. Both cars were turned completely around, and Leese's machine was turned over by the impact. Each man escaped injury. The two agreed to stand their respective 1 ses. "Moonshine" apparently figured in the crash.

AUTOS COLLIDE

In a collision between the Ford car owned and driven by Chas. Haas, East High street, and a car driven by a state policeman, said to have contained a "moonshine" prisoner, near the Cross Keys, on Friday, both cars were somewhat damaged and had to be repaired by the Abbotstown garage. Mr. Haas was proceeding eastward at the time. It is said the rear of the state cop's machine, which was running toward Gettysburg, skidded in the path of the local young man's auto, the latter's brakes failing to avert a collision.

BANK GRANTED NEW POWER

Official notification has been received by the First National Bank, Gettysburg, from the Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia that they have been granted the power to act as trustee, administrator, legislator, registrar of stocks and bonds, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, and committees of estates of lunatics or other fiduciary capacity in which state banks, trust companies and other corporations come in competition with national banks are permitted to act under the laws of Pennsylvania. ROLL OF BILLS RECOVERED

To put his roll of $67 in a wheat bin for safe keeping, to take the wheat to Hereter's mill without removing the money and then to have the bills returned to him after they had lain on the mill floor for two months was an interesting incident to occur recently in the life of John C. Wildasin, whose home is near Fairfield. Upon missing the roll Mr. Wildasin made inquiry as to whether or not any one had noticed his roll. Altho he searched the mill thoroughly at the time Mr. Hereter was unable to find the money for two months when he saw it on the floor in an obscure part of his building. Mr. Hereter took the money to the Citizens Trust Company in Gettysburg where a check was made out payable to Mr. and Mrs. Wildasin. During the time the money was lost Mr. and Mrs. Wildasin became estranged and there is said to have been a considerable dispute before the money finally reached the pocket of the owner from where it had been taken more than two months before. The case of Com. vs. John C. Wildasin charged with non-maintenance by his wife, Mrs. Willamina Wildasin, recently was marked continued on the docket of J. R. Hartman, clerk of the courts, and is expected to appear at the April session. Dispute about private financial matters are said to be the cause of the separation of Mrs. Wildasin, a Canadian woman, and her husband, a native of the Arendtsville section of Adams county, who met each other in Buffalo.

TUMBLES DOWN BANK

D. E. Saylor, of the firm of Saylor Bros., York tobaccoists, and his chauffeur, John Dellinger, had a narrow escape from serious injury Saturday night, when the Ford truck in which they were riding, went over a bank. The accident occurred along Lincoln Highway, about 5 miles east of Abbottstown, and on the truck at the time were three pool tables. They were being taken from Hanover to York. The truck was almost completely demolished. It was carted to York and placed in the Saylor garage. The pool tables were slightly damaged. Dellinger sustained slight injuries to his right arm. Saylor escaped injury. It is claimed that while the truck was proceeding toward York a Buick machine, running at a rapid rate of speed, coming from the direction of York, sideswiped the Saylor truck and caused the accident. The driver of the auto continued on his way without investigating the extent of the damage. Mr. Saylor claims he secured the license number on the tags of the Buick.

Harold A. Houtz, of Harrisburg, senior of Gettysburg college, was given a hearing Friday before Alderman Garver, York, on a charge of larceny of an automobile owned by Geo. S. Schmidt, that city, which was stolen from in front of the Coliseum on the evening of January 7th. The case was held under advisement. The car was recovered in Gettysburg by Serg. Merrifield, of the state constabulary, with the license tag removed.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a New Oxford Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys.

People in this vicinity testify to their worth. Ask your neighbor, Geo. F. Gouker, cigar maker, Gettysburg St., Littlestown, Pa., says: "Sitting in a bent position all day, weakened my kidneys and they acted irregularly. My back began to hurt me and in the morning, I was stiff and lame. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, got relief. I take Doan's now occasionally as a preventative."

Time to Build?
Will this Spring be a good time to build? For the past few years lumber and labor have been prohibitively high; we have got along with the buildings we had. But we are getting crowded. Shall we remedy the situation this Spring? asks Mr. McMahon, in

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

Then he goes into the question from every point of view. He tells why prices of building materials have been high; he prophesies this Spring's market conditions; he answers your urgent question: Build now or wait?

This series is typical of the way in which THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN anticipates the needs of the American farmer. For every farm interest it offers just such "ahead-of-the-minute" service. Because the vision of this great weekly is as broad as all agriculture, it can do more than tell what has been done or is being done in your business: it can prophesy progress. It can warn of the causes of price changes before they occur. A single dollar buys THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN for a whole year—52 big, snappy issues of it. It's a great bargain—I know because I read it every week. If you want your copies to begin coming next week, be sure to rush me your dollar today.

Clear Case.

"I don't take prohibition cases," said the lawyer.
"But I'm an innocent man, I tell you. I'm charged with having liquor in my possession, but I'm the person who called up the police department and stated that I had found twenty-four quarts of Scotch buried in my backyard."

"You say you called up the police and let them carry off that Scotch when you might have concealed it in a hundred different places and defied the true owner to get possession of it?"

"Certainly."
"Well, you must be innocent. I'll engage to defend you."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Just Making Sure!

Backward and forward Johnny marched before the garden gate. He had a brand-new rifle and was playing at being a soldier on sentry duty. To him came the lady from next door, her eyes cold and hard.

"Johnny, did you break my window?" she demanded sternly, pointing as she spoke to her damaged property.

Johnny paused in his stride and eyed her thoughtfully.
"Did you see me do it?" he asked cautiously.

"No, I didn't—but—"
"Then I didn't."
And he resumed his marching.

Long-Distance Music.

A concert was recently heard thousands of miles away over the wireless. "Nothing new about that," comments J. B. M. waggishly; "here in Boston 20 years ago I heard a young lady singing 'In Old Madrid.'"—Boston Transcript.

Some men admit that they are self-made, while others put the blame on their wives.

You wouldn't put on hobbles to run a foot race

Then why load up on handicaps for the day's work?

A good deal of food, unwisely chosen, does weigh the body down and clog the digestion, and dull the brain.

Why put on the hobbles?

Grape-Nuts is a breakfast or lunch-time dish for those who want food efficiency, and mind and body efficiency.

Grape-Nuts satisfies and nourishes. It delights the taste. It is ready to serve whenever you are ready to eat. And it digests easily, quickly and completely—leaving no handicap of heaviness and drowsiness.

Grape-Nuts is the food for health and action.

GIRL'S BEAUTY BETRAYED HER

Fugitive From Justice, Once Convicted, Is Acquitted on Second Trial.

COP KNEW HER FACE

Jury Accepts Defense That She Killed Man in Defense of Honor—Fled After First Trial—Fugitive a Year.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Maude Moore, whose beauty betrayed her after she had been a fugitive from justice for more than a year, is innocent of the crime of killing Leroy B. Hart, of which she was accused. A jury has just so decreed. It was her second trial.

The verdict of not guilty gives the dark-haired, gray-eyed young woman the freedom for which she risked every danger and sacrificed all—except her beauty.

She handed away her liberty with a rose in Washington. It was after she had been sought for many months. Using the name of Helen Hope, she had married William Stubbs and settled in Tacoma like a good little housewife with a kitchen and a garden and a husband who never suspected for one instant that he had married a girl who was being hunted the length and breadth of America as an escaped murderess.

Mrs. William Stubbs was pruning rose bushes when a Tacoma policeman strutted along the street. He was just an ordinary policeman with an Irish laugh and an Irish eye for every roguish little peach on the beat.

He noticed the quaint white bungalow. He observed the bonny beauty in the sunbonnet. He stopped and glanced up.

"Have a rose?" she asked, cheerfully. "Sure, and I thank you!"

Remembered Her Face.

The Irish policeman took away the rose and the memory of a pair of clear gray eyes, a bee-stung mouth and a dazzling smile. The memory stayed with him for hours—until he walked into headquarters and a head-on collision with the likeness of the lady of his thoughts tacked on the wall under the caption, "$2,000 Reward."

When the police came, Mrs. Stubbs confessed she was Maude Moore. They took her back to Knoxville and to trial for Leroy Hart's murder.

Maude Moore always had been a pretty girl. After graduation from business college she got a job in the first office she entered, a lawyer's. He beauty—then—was her trump card. Leroy Hart, just out of college, owner of a flashy racing car, "money to burn," saw her and fell in love with her when she was twenty. When he suggested a side one night and she accepted, Hart set his racer streaming toward the lonely highway known to Knoxville's sporty set as "Lover's Lane."

"Have a Rose?"

There, they said, she killed him. She was tried, convicted and sentenced to 21 years in the penitentiary.

Then She Fled.

Though a higher court granted a new trial she flung a few clothes into her bag at her mother's home and stumbled into the darkness.

Rarely in a long list of famous man-hunts has there been such a hue and cry as followed. Her two bondsmen, R. E. Boring and Edward McNew, facing a forfeiture of $10,000, spurred the chase, which soon became a clamorous wolf pack on Maude Moore's trail.

In the first moment of her flight she determined to blot out Maude Moore as completely as nature would let her. The glossy black hair was snipped away. The surviving curls were given a peroxide bath that bleached them yellow. Hours were spent in perfecting a mincing walk in place of the old free stride. The musical contralto died; in its stead was born a nasal treble.

Starves Self to Death to Save Money. Emporia, Kan. Mrs. Katherine Swenson, starved herself to death to save money, according to her neighbors. Mrs. Swenson was found dying in bed at her home. There was no fire in the house, and Mrs. Swenson was too weak to reach so near food on the table. She owns some valuable farm property.

LOVED BY WOMAN TWICE HIS AGE

Nurse Becomes Infatuated With Boy Because He Resembles Her Lost Son.

Akron, O.—Mrs. Lillian Swazee, forty-two years old, trained nurse, is held at the detention home on a statutory charge because she fell in love with a sixteen-year-old boy at a Findlay (O.) orphan's home and then came to Akron to live with him, according to Mrs. Grace K. Hill, policewoman, who made the arrest. The two have lived in Akron three years as mother and son, according to Mrs. Hill.

They were arrested as they were returning home from a grocery, walking arm in arm, apparently devoted to each other. At first both were reluctant to tell their story, but Mrs. Swazee, it is said, finally told it, while the boy, now nineteen, stood looking at the floor in an adjoining room.

"I went to work in the Findlay home to be near my fifteen-year-old daughter. While there I saw a boy who was the image of the son I had lost shortly after my husband died. My mother's heart went out to him and I loved him as a mother," the nurse said, according to Mrs. Hill.

"Three years ago," she continued, "I came to Akron and he came to make his home with me. He was an orphan. I worked as a nurse in Akron hospitals and made a living for him because I loved him."

"I do not know what to do. The whole thing shocks me now. But I still love him. None but a mother can know how my heart went out to the boy when I saw in him the picture of my own son," she said.

Police are puzzled as to how to treat the case.

MOTHER'S FAITH REWARDED

Son Returning After She Had Kept Light Going for Ten Years.

Asbury Park. — The unwavering faith of a mother that her boy would return after an absence of ten years, exemplified by a lighted lamp that she has kept constantly in her window since his disappearance, has been rewarded. WHY DO THEY LIKE THIS MAN?

It is Because He Has the Life and Energy that Red Blood Gives.

He has a good color. He is strong and virile, and looks it. He is good humored. He laughs easily. In short, he is "full of life," which is simply another way of saying he is full of red blood. What Did They Mean?

On Christmas morning the children of the house were spreading out the toys that Santa had put in their stockings.

"Father," said Willie, "I wish I had got a dictionary in my stocking as well as these toys."

"Why," what did you want that for?"

"So that I could find out the meaning of words I heard Santa Claus say when he stepped on the tacks I spread on the carpet last night."

His Slowness.

"Doctor Rave, the popular evangelist, emphatically declares that there is a hell."

"Dear suzz!" answered J. Fuller Gloom. "Has he just found it out? Why, almost immediately after my marriage more than twenty years ago I advised my brother-in-law to go there!"—Kansas City Star.

Reverend Sparrow Jones Had Ingenious Reasoning With Which to Satisfy Aunt Miranda.

A faithful old servant in a southern family has recently become a grandmother. "What does Libby call her new baby, Mandy?" the old woman was asked.
"She named her 'Gabrielle,' miss—after you."
"Why, the idea, Mandy! You know my name is not Gabrielle. You've called me 'Miss Katie' all my life."
"Yas'm, Miss Katie—dat I does. But when it comes to naming babies after folkses, it ain't what dey is called it is what dey is like dat you names 'em foh. You shorely is mo' like 'Miss Gabrielle' dan you is like 'Miss Katie,' jes, like Libby says."

Double Correction.
Mrs. Nevrich (to small son)—James, have you whispered today without permission?

James—Only wunst.
Mrs. Nevrich (to nurse)—Jane, should James have said "wunst"?
Jane—No, ma'am, he should have said twict.—London Answers.

Usually the louder a man talks the less it amounts to.

Fortunate is the liar who loses his reputation.

Place for Him.
There were weird howls from Tennessee.

"What does that hyena want?" demanded father.
"Wants you to take him to the zoo," cooed mother.—Judge.

She Did.
Mr. Saphend—"Do you ever think of me?" Miss Kutting—"Yes; but I'd hate to tell you what."—Judge.

Many ambitious men and women live only half a life—and don't know it

No person whose nerves are continually irritated, whose appetite and digestion are disturbed, or who doesn't sleep well has more than half his normal chance for success in life. For weakness, debility, anemia and general lack of tone are a serious handicap to anybody.

Those who drink tea or coffee are often sufferers from these conditions. Tea and coffee contain caffeine, a substance which has a decided stimulant action on the nerves and brain cells.

Each cup of strong coffee contains about as large a dose of caffeine as your doctor would ordinarily give to a very sick person.

You can readily see that the effect of giving this stimulant regularly to a well person might finally have a tendency to make him sick.

If you want to avoid a very common cause of irritation and enjoy restful sleep, good digestion, and all the feeling of vigor and robust endurance that comes to healthy, normal people, quit tea and coffee, and drink Postum, instead. It is a rich, coffee-like cereal beverage—perfectly delicious!

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this fragrant, aromatic beverage and see how much better you'll feel—able to do more without becoming fatigued—as thousands have discovered for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

INJURY PROVED FATAL

George C. Champlain, died at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Saturday, as a result of injuries received while operating a planing machine at the Gettysburg furniture factory on December 2nd, when a splinter of wood flew back from the machine and struck him in the right leg just below the hip, imbedding itself about six inches in the flesh. He was taken to the hospital. A femoral vein was punctured by the splinter. He remained at the hospital 33 days and was discharged on January 2nd. After being home several weeks, the wound refused to heal and an abscess formed in the right thigh as a result of the infection from the splinter remaining in the leg. His condition became steadily worse and February 8, he was again taken to the hospital and an operation performed Friday in an attempt to stop the action of gangrene poison which it is said set in. The operation was unsuccessful and his death followed.

Mr. Champlain was 49 years old, and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Champlain, of Center Mills, where he was born and lived until seven years ago when he moved to Gettysburg. Besides his wife, who was Miss Stella Rickode, before her marriage and lived near Center Mills, Mr. Champlain leaves one son, Luther, and two adopted children, Chas. Howard and Kathleen. Two sisters and two brothers, also survive.

GOLDEN RULE HAS PLACE IN TRADE

Has Been Found to Be Good
Business Policy Both for
Buyer and Seller.

OBLIGATION NOT ONE-SIDED

Consumer Gains As Much By Being Fair With Merchant As Latter Does By Being Square and Honest.

(Copyright.)
Some cynical persons have remarked that the Golden Rule has no place in business. They have taken the position that instead of doing unto others as you would have them do unto you, the only safe and sane plan is to do others before they have a chance to do you.

Fortunately for business and for the world at large, however, these persons are few and far between. The great majority of people are honest.

It has been proven repeatedly that even in business it pays to practice the Golden Rule, just as it has been proven repeatedly that "honesty is the best policy." It not only makes a man feel better down in his heart when he employs the principle of the Golden Rule, but he finds that it is good business. This applies not only to the man who stands behind the counter and gives a full pound of sugar to the man who asks for a pound, but also to the man who stands on the other side of the counter and pays his money for the pound of sugar.

Does Consumer Do His Part?

The consumer expects the merchant to be honest and square and give him his money's worth for every penny that he spends with him, but how often does the consumer stop and ask himself the question, "Am I being as fair and honest with the merchant as he is being with me?" The consumer not only expects the merchant to give him honest weight and full measure at the lowest possible price, but he expects a world of other things at the same time. Nine times out of ten he expects the merchant to give him credit, and nine times out of ten the merchant does it. Many times he expects the merchant to "carry" him for three or four months before he pays for what he buys, and as many times the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to pay for advertising space in the church program which he is getting up, and the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to "kick in" most liberally when he is raising a fund for the benefit of the town band, and the merchant does it.

He expects the merchant to provide the bonus which is to be paid to obtain a new factory which will benefit the working man, the clerk and everybody else in the town, and the merchant does it. He expects the merchant to "come across" with a donation to help the poor family which otherwise would become a charge upon the common funds of the community, and the merchant does.

Another Side to Picture.

Now, look on the other side of the picture. Mr. Consumer decides that he needs a new suit of clothes, or Mrs. Consumer decides that she wants a new kitchen range, or some of the little Consumers express a desire for a train of cars or a bobbed. Mr. Consumer picks up the big mail-order catalogue which the mail-order house has printed with his money or that of others like him, and he looks it over until he finds a picture that strikes his eye. It's a picture of a "nifty" looking suit of clothes. Of course, he can't feel the picture to see whether the cloth is as good as it looks; he can't look the mail-order man in the eye and ask him whether he will guarantee it to wear for at least a month or six weeks; he can't tell the mail-order man that he will drop in the first of the month and settle for it; he can't tell the mail-order man that he would like to have a little of his business or a chance to do a little carpenter work or painting or plumbing work for him, as long as he is buying his goods from him, for the mail-order man hasn't any business or any work to give him. But the picture is a pretty one, so Mr. Consumer digs out his hard-earned cash, goes down to the postoffice, buys a money-order and sends it to the mail-order man.

After a week or ten days, or possibly two weeks, the suit arrives. It may be nothing like the picture. The chances are that it doesn't fit at all. But there is nothing for Mr. Consumer to do but put the suit on and wear it. He can't get his money back. He might send the suit back and the mail-order man might send another in its place, but the chances are that it wouldn't be any better than the first and Mr. Consumer would only be out the additional express charges.

Found Golden Rule Pays.

Mr. Consumer found that it pays to remember the Golden Rule in business. If he had done unto the merchant as he would like the merchant to do unto him, he would have got more for his money and he would have aided in making it possible for the merchant to help him and his town when they needed help.

The world has discovered that the Golden Rule is not for use only on Sundays, but that it is value on every day of the week.

STILL RAID NEAR HERE

A drunken man, a resident on the Kuhn farm, between Abbottstown and East Berlin, Adams County, near the York County line, was arrested late Friday, February 10, by officers of the law, who found a copper still, of 35-gallon capacity, attached to a whiskey barrel, containing half-inch coil and other evidence that manufacture of brandy was carried on.

The raid was successfully carried out by Sergeant Paul S. Worcester, Private Frank B. Goucher, of Pennsylvania State Police, substation, Gettysburg, armed with a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Hill, Gettysburg, at direction of Raymond Topper, district attorney, of Adams County, Jesse Crabbs, chief of police, of Hanover, and Herb B. Kahn, York, the York countians bearing a warrant issued by Lewis D. Sell, justice of the peace of Hanover, made at direction of Walter Van Baman, district attorney of York County.

The residence served as the home of Edward S. Sneeringer and Norman Small. Both were arrested by Chief Crabbs and Private Goucher. Sneeringer is charged on the York County warrant with selling intoxicating liquor. Information is at hand that he has been disposing of product of the underground moonshine still in Hanover, selling bottles of the stuff concealed in pasteboard cartons such as are used in selling shoes.

The information in Adams County, before Justice Hill, was made by Sergeant Worcester. That in York County, before Justice Sell, by Herb B. Kahn, at direction of District Attorney Van Baman.

Small is charged, together with Sneeringer, on the Adams County warrant with manufacturing, selling and possessing intoxicating liquor. Sneeringer furnished bail for a hearing. Small was committed to the Adams County jail for a hearing. Chief Crabbs, Sergeant Worcester and Mr. Kahn will conduct a further investigation, acting under direction of both the district attorneys interested in the case—Van Baman and Topper.

Officers feel confident that the men under arrest were conducting a bootlegging business along wholesale lines. The farm is owned by John R. Kuhn, Esq., of Brooklyn, N. Y., who spends the Summer there. The fact that the place is abandoned in the winter time and is boarded up made it an ideal location for a "quiet still."

The officials approached the place cautiously. No one was permitted to know their plans and news of the raid only became public after it had been successfully consummated. That the exercise of caution was justified is evidenced by the fact that deadly weapons were found, with plenty of ammunition at hand, ready for instant use.

Above the door entering the cellar from a room on the first floor, a shot gun and rifle, both loaded, were found. Beneath the gun was a box of shells. Sergeant Worcester unloaded the gun and rifle and took charge of the ammunition.

The officers found the cellar windows tightly closed, so tightly that not a ray of light could penetrate.

The still found in the cellar is the width of an ordinary cook stove. The officers also found four large whiskey barrels of mash, made of prunes and peaches, and four other barrels of the same size and capacity, but empty.

Four jugs containing distilled liquor and brandy, about ten gallons; eight empty whiskey bottles, a tester, a bottle of sugar coloring, paddles and other paraphernalia used in manufacturing liquor were found.

The stuff was all seized, placed on a truck and taken by Sergeant Worcester and Kahn to Gettysburg, where it was stored in the county jail. The mash was destroyed by pouring kerosene on it.

Small was released from the Adams county jail Monday morning under $1,000 bail. He will be given a hearing at Gettysburg on Friday. Sneeringer is awaiting a hearing before Justice Sell, of Hanover.

SALTS IS FINE FOR
KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Most forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

IF HAIR IS TURNING
GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DRINK HOT TEA
FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a teaspoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest
St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 35 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

DUTY WELL DONE

Springfield Citizens Worthily Honored Lincoln's Memory.

Writer Who Knew the Great President Commends Placing of Tablets at Points of Interest.

Springfield citizens have discharged a duty which the nation has owed to future generations. They have recalled the memory of Abraham Lincoln's life in Springfield by placing thirteen bronze tablets at places made historic by events in Lincoln's career while he resided there, writes Henry B. Rankin in the New York Tribune.

These tablets bear his name and tell of the events that transpired at the various places and dates. The bronze, the designs and the workmanship represent the best quality of memorial art.

To younger citizens who never knew him and to the thousands of visitors who are attracted to Springfield only because it was the home of Lincoln, these tablets will be most revealing of his presence in the Illinois capital. These memorials are a living embodiment of the Lincoln spirit in Springfield and are as appealing and more valuable than even his tomb. He still lives at Springfield now in daylight as well as at midnight and limited no longer by Lindsay's poetical vision of "Lincoln Walks at Midnight." The poet wrote

It is portentous and a thing of state That here at midnight, in our little town, A noising figure walks, and with a rest Near the old Courthouse peering up and down

Some of the locations marked are more intimate than others to the writer, though all are worthy and correctly placed. Four of the tablets mark places and events where I was present and familiar with the events cited. These are the ones at the old Journal office, where Lincoln received the telegram notifying him of his nomination; at the C. M. Smith building, in the third story, where Lincoln wrote his first inaugural address; also the tablet reciting events at the State house (now Court house), where his great speeches were delivered and where his body lay in state and from where it was borne to the tomb. The fourth tablet marks the law office which Lincoln occupied the last seventeen years he was in Springfield. This is to me the most appealing and sacred of all in memory's retrospect.

Lincoln's Law Office. The first three mentioned I will not further refer to here, as they were fully described in my "Personal Recollections of Abraham Lincoln."

Of the Lincoln law office some more intimate recognition of the part it had in Lincoln's life deserves mention at this time. This office was the center of Lincoln's legal, political and literary activities in Springfield. Volumes might have been written of what took place here, had there been such a competent, gossiping scribe as Boswell always present to take notes of what transpired.

It is now more than sixty years since I passed daily under the swinging sign, "Lincoln & Herndon," and up and down the stairway, into and from a back room, located in what was then a two-story building. This had been the law office of Abraham Lincoln for the last seventeen and most strenuous years he spent in Springfield.

It was my privilege, for several of those later years, to share in that office his routine as a student, and to enjoy the personality and instruction of this most remarkable man of his century.

The end of his presence at the law office came the evening of February 10, 1861. I recall seeing Abraham Lincoln passing that night, for the last time, out of his office and down the narrow stairway to the street. On the following morning he departed from Springfield on his mission into the strange, strenuous sacrificial life that has endeared his memory forever to endure in the heart of the ages.

Foresaw Coming Events. No place in Springfield, not even his tomb, brings with memories such as this office brings to the students of Lincoln's history. Lincoln's most studious years were spent here, as well as the most aspiring ones. It

Here idle lies behind this gate, Where little children and the great Forget-me-nots and laurel lay, All the useless, hallowed clay Of Lincoln, in his lonely state.

A spirit, vast, compassionate, Unfaltering in a world of hate Of little men who rage when they Hear idle lies.

Lord, how we silly humans prate Of life's inconsequential date, And epoch passes while we pray, An epic sung while asses bray, A god went by that we, too late, Here idolize!

was here that he grew clear visioned on the future's national problems and threw his whole soul into their solution. Here he acquired his dexterous skill in handling human implements. Political events rapidly succeeded each other in those years he spent there. These arose to a climax at length with swiftswiftness unlooked for by most others. Not so to Lincoln. They culminated at last suddenly, bringing fierce strife of brother against brother, of state against state. Dark clouds filled the political and national skies, bursting at last into a storm of bitter hate and bloody war. This had become inevitable.

When that hour of need had struck it was from this office there came a man fully prepared by years of study for those fateful hours. An honest, tall, gentle, strong man, heroic and sad, who was constitutionally called by his fellow countrymen from this office and placed at the helm of state to preserve our national union. In that time of political turmoil and civil revolution he guided his country safely through blood and fire and tears, with a steady, unshaken faith in God and man.

The Lincoln Home at Eighth and Jackson Streets, Springfield.

Truly "A Man for the Ages."

It was not the opportunity nor the stress of great occasions, such as the delivery of his speech in the Illinois state capital on "a house divided against itself cannot stand," nor the debates with Douglas that followed it, nor the opportunity before a New York audience at Cooper Institute, that account for or explain the progressive development of Lincoln.

It was not Salem, Springfield or Washington. It was neither Stuart Logan, Herndon, Douglas, Baker Harlan nor the able men in his cabinet and who surrounded him in so many other capacities, both civil and military who can have the credit of prominence in the making of Abraham Lincoln, much as those places and some of those men have contributed to it.

After and beyond all these influences and those times and men that he there moved among, and rising beyond all comparisons with them, we clearly discern the unique and exclusive personality of Lincoln himself.

BETWEEN THE LINES

You will not find a sentiment . . .
In this, my Valentine; . . .
To put such words on paper seems
To cheapen thoughts divine.

'Tis not the words writ large or bold,
Or even those writ fine . . .
That stir the heart the most, 'tis those
That hide between each line.

—From the Philadelphia Ledger.

HAD ORIGIN IN PAGAN FESTIVAL

CUSTOM OF CHOOSING A VALENTINE IS ANCIENT.

Fathers of Christianity Modified the Practices, Which They Were Unable Entirely to Eradicate.

St. Valentine's day is the 14th of February, and singularly ominous to lovers. St. Valentine is said to have been a bishop who suffered martyrdom under the Roman emperor, Claudius, or else under Aurelian in 271.

Like many another semi-Christian custom, the day set apart to the memory of St. Valentine in the Christian calendar is an old pagan festival upon which our ancestors believed that the birds chose their mates for the coming year. This, at least, is the commonly received version of our modern custom of "choosing a valentine" on the 14th of February and of sending a billet-doux or a fancy valentine through the mail to some favored one.

In old Rome, the 15th of February was the festival of Juno Februata (Juno the fructifier), and the Roman church substituted St. Valentine for the heathen goddess. At that festival, called "Lupercalia," it was there customary, among other ceremonies, to put the names of young women into a box, from which they were drawn by the men as chance directed.

The Christian clergy, finding it difficult or impossible to extirpate the pagan practice, and in accordance with their general principle to eradicate the vestiges of pagan superstition by retaining the ceremonies but modifying their significance, gave it a religious aspect by substituting the names of particular saints for those of women. The saints whose names were drawn were proposed for imitation to the persons who received the slips of paper whereon they were written, and in many religious houses, where this custom still prevails, each member of the community preserves his billet during the year, as an incentive to imitate the virtues and invoke the special intercession of his holy valentine.

This innovation, however, namely, the substitution of the names of saints for the names of lovers, could not please the young people forever. Though the clergy repeatedly forbade the custom of valentines and ordered the use of cards with saints' names, the old pagan custom could not be abolished. The boys and girls triumphed over the saints, and in the end the girls triumphed over the boys, wresting from them their exclusive privilege of choosing mates.

The old custom of drawing names is to this day observed in many parts of England and Scotland in the following manner: A number of slips of paper with the names of an equal number of men and women are shuffled and drawn, so each young man has a valentine in the person of a young maiden, and each maiden draws a young man whom she calls hers. The valentines give each other gifts, and often this little sport ends in love and marriage.

FEBRUARY FOURTEEN

Oh, ware ye all, my maidens fair,
And ware ye, gentlemen,
For there is danger in the air
Now Cupid's come again.
Encase your hearts in adamant,
And guard them round about,
For Cupid is a sly gallant
And like to draw them out.

Oh, guard ye well, my maidens all,
And ye, my gentlemen;
Where Cupid's darts are like to fall
Is always uncertain.
Gird on your armor, strong and true,
And steel your hearts, and wait,
And be convinced he shoots at you,
Ere ye capitulate.

THE DAYS GONE BY

What has become
Of ye Olde way time
When you sent your girl
A Valentine?

Not one of these modern kind.
I mean
The ones that folded
With lace between.

And a heart with an arrow
Running right through,
And a verse inside about
"Violets blue."

Whose jingling rhyme
Sent thrills through your heart,
'Til you'd almost feel
Dan Cupid's dart.

It's scented folds
Made you dizzy with hope.
Remember, it smelled
Like a new bar of soap.

And when it came
You trembled for fear,
When you looked and found HER
Name written there.

Oh, what has become
Of ye Olde way time
When your girl sent you
A Valentine?

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. W. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others.

The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mothers—daughters, why not try it?

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Albert Will Case.

After hearing arguments 5½ days for and against setting Marie C. Shenk, of Carlisle, aside as executrix and beneficiary of the will of the late Sampson Albert, who died at the Shenk home in Carlisle on September 1, 1921, court was adjourned at noon Friday until March 6th. However, further hearing on that day but by agreement of court and counsel, the argument will start on Wednesday, March 8th. This date is only tentative. It is said that about three days will be required to hear the remainder of the witnesses for the defense. There is now a strong possibility that Marie Shenk will be called to testify in her own behalf at that time.

Thursday noon the proponents offering the will began the taking of their testimony at once, John D. Keith of counsel of Marie Shenk detailing a visit to Sampson Albert on Aug. 24 and Miss Martha Dickson following with notes of the conversation following J. D. Keith and the decedent at the time. Dr. E. A. Hudson, Hampton, was also on stand Thursday. The testimony of all the witnesses related to what each knew about decedent, facts of his condition, various relations and the basis upon which they formed the opinion whether he had or did not have testamentary capacity to make the will and whether or not he was unduly influenced in the making of the will.

A Judicious Inquiry.—A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade, says he has often heard druggists ask a customer, who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.
